Smarter management of inventory and assets.

Backed by real-time data that communicates important information on access to parts, documentation, completion times, a PiiComm-empowered field worker has access to all information and parts needed to finish the job on the first visit. You also save time and ensure inventory accuracy by using PiiComm-enabled barcode scanners/labels and RFID readers on assets.

Boost sales and manage revenue.

With instant access to customer and product information, field workers can sell more products, services and accessories while on-site, including remotely updating extended warranty and maintenance plans.
